Jeffrey A. Joerres, ManpowerGroup Chairman and CEO, was honored with the International Investment Strategist award for ManpowerGroup's presence in China, which spans 18 years, and was built on innovative government partnerships.

ManpowerGroup received a second award for contributing to public welfare in China.

The 5th Multinational Corporations Leaders Roundtable addressed the role multinational corporations maintain in strengthening Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), facilitate sustainable development across China, and increase foreign direct investment into and out of China.

State leaders attending the event included: Jia Qinglin, Member of the Standing Committee of the Political Bureau of the CPC and Chairman of the 11th National Committee of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference (CPPCC); Du Qinglin, Vice-Chairman of the CPPCC; and Zheng Wantong, Vice-Chairman of the 11th National Committee of the CPPCC.

"These awards reflect our legacy commitment to helping China meet its economic growth projections," Joerres said. "In the Human Age, the innovative workforce solutions ManpowerGroup delivers require intense public and private sector collaboration, while at the same time they must contribute to social welfare."

While speaking at the event Arkless, focused on how China is challenged in attracting more foreign investment and upskilling workers in critical sectors.

"Never has China's contribution to bolstering healthy economic growth been more important," Arkless said. "China's vibrant and resilient economy is a firewall against a global economic meltdown and its increasing investment in going global is helping maintain confidence in many developed economies."

One year ago, ManpowerGroup unveiled its extensive expansion across Western China, which involved acquiring several local recruitment firms and partnering with municipal authorities in China to build up the manufacturing sector. In the last two years, the number of ManpowerGroup associates on daily assignment in China has risen from 15,000 to 125,000. ManpowerGroup now operates in more than 90 offices across the country.

ManpowerGroup Hong Kong recently received several awards for HR leadership and social contribution.
