Jonas Prising elected ManpowerGroup CEO;
Jeffrey Joerres named Executive Chairman both effective May 1, 2014

MILWAUKEE (11 FEBRUARY 2014) –ManpowerGroup (NYSE: MAN) today announced that its board of directors has elected Jonas Prising to serve as the company’s fourth chief executive officer (CEO) effective May 1, 2014, and has been nominated to join the board of directors. Prising is currently ManpowerGroup president and executive vice president for the Americas and Southern Europe. Joerres will assume the role of executive chairman upon Prising’s appointment.

“Jonas has successfully led several of ManpowerGroup’s key businesses over his fifteen years with the company. He started as the head our European sales organization and then built our business in Italy, which is now over $1B in revenue, while also leading the successful first global rebranding of our company. Most recently, Jonas has served as president and EVP of the Americas and Southern Europe, while leading our global Right Management and ManpowerGroup Solutions businesses,” said Joerres. “ManpowerGroup has a long tradition of internally developing our CEOs and I am proud that we have someone of Jonas’ caliber and expertise to lead the company. Jonas’ deep industry knowledge, client first approach and strategic vision will enable us to continue to grow ManpowerGroup and deliver world class results. Jonas is a true global citizen; a native of Sweden, he has lived in nine countries across Asia, Europe and North America and speaks five languages. ManpowerGroup will benefit not only from Jonas’ global perspective but his leadership and passion for our clients, our associates and our people.”

Ed Zore, lead director of ManpowerGroup’s board of directors, stated, “The board appreciates Jeff’s leadership in developing executive talent and managing a rigorous succession planning process. After careful consideration, the board strongly endorses and is confident that Prising is the right CEO to move the organization forward and we are pleased to see ManpowerGroup continue its legacy of internal succession.

“I am honored and proud to continue to build on the strong foundation that Jeff has established. His strategic vision, thought leadership, innovation, business acumen and personal leadership have firmly positioned ManpowerGroup as a global leader in our industry,” said Prising. “Our company and management team is the strongest it has ever been. I am confident that we will continue to deliver innovation and the results our shareholders, clients and candidates expect.”

Joerres became ManpowerGroup’s chief executive officer in 1999 and was named chairman of the board in 2001. During his tenure, Joerres transformed ManpowerGroup from an $8B temporary staffing company, operating in 50 countries with one brand, to a $20B+ global provider of innovative workforce solutions operating in 80 countries under three brands – Manpower, Experis and Right Management.

As executive chairman, Joerres will be actively involved in the business with particular focus on clients and external relationships.

ManpowerGroup Names Darryl Green ManpowerGroup's First Chief Operating Officer and Ram Chandrashekar Executive Vice President

MILWAUKEE (11 FEBRUARY 2014) – ManpowerGroup (NYSE: MAN) announced today that Darryl Green has been promoted to ManpowerGroup's president and chief operating officer (COO), reporting to Jonas Prising, who today was elected as ManpowerGroup's chief executive officer (CEO). Both appointments are effective May 1, 2014. Green is currently president and executive vice president, Asia Pacific Middle East and Northern Europe. Sriram "Ram" Chandrashekar has also been promoted to executive vice president, effective immediately.

ManpowerGroup has appointed its first COO to ensure the continuance and acceleration of operational performance. As ManpowerGroup COO, Green will have responsibility for ManpowerGroup's four regions – Americas, Asia Pacific Middle East, Southern and Northern Europe. "Darryl is a strong commercial business leader who will focus on driving growth with the disciplined execution needed to deliver world class performance," said Jeff Joerres, chairman and CEO of ManpowerGroup. "Darryl has an exceptional track record of consistently delivering results. This coupled with his deep knowledge of emerging markets and ability to craft sophisticated client solutions will greatly enhance ManpowerGroup's performance and enable us to effectively deliver innovative workforce solutions to our clients."

Sriram "Ram" Chandrashekar will take on the added responsibility of president, Asia Pacific Middle East, effective immediately. Chandrashekar is currently the senior vice president Operational Excellence and IT and was previously the COO for Asia Pacific Middle East. "Under Ram's strong leadership we improved our operational performance in 2013 and delivered more value from our IT assets," Joerres said. "Ram's experience as COO, Asia Pacific Middle East, and working around the world to improve our operational performance, will allow him to smoothly transition into the added responsibilities of running the Asia Pacific Middle East Region while continuing to drive momentum in our operational and IT performance globally."

"I look forward to working with Darryl and Ram and the entire ManpowerGroup leadership team in my new role as CEO," said Jonas Prising. "We have an extraordinarily talented team who has worked together closely over the last years to improve our operational performance and we are well positioned for future success."
